ROBERT B. SWAIN III

Bob was a unique man. He was happy and complete in his promising life, but what characterized him most was his talent for making full the lives of his friends. He had many friends.

His greatness stemmed from his easy way of forming penetrated and firm human connections through his many courses; his keen intellect, his strong compassion, his irrepressible and infectious playfulness, his clear hopes, his sensible trust and his brilliant enthusiasm for the best in all of us.

Now we are poor having lost him, but we are rich having loved him.

I've been thinking lately of my lifestyle
All the things I've done and how it's been
And I can't help believing in my own mind
I know I'm going to hate to see it end.

I've seen a lot of sunshine,
Slept out in the rain;
Spent a night or two all on my own;
I've known my lady's pleasure,
Had myself some friends.
I've spent a time or two in my own home.

The days they pass so quickly now
Nights are seldom long.
And time around me whispers when it's cold;
The changes somehow frighten me
Still I have to smile;
It turns me on to think of growing old.
For though my life's been good to me
There's still so much to do
So many things my mind has never known.
I'd like to raise a family
I'd like to sail away
And dance across the mountains on the moon.

I'll have to say it now it's been a good life all in all;
it's really fine to have a chance to hang around.
And lie there by the fire and watch the evening tire
Along with friends and my old lady sit and pass the pipe around.
And talk of poems and prayers and promises and things that we Believe in; how sweet it is to love someone; how right it is to care.
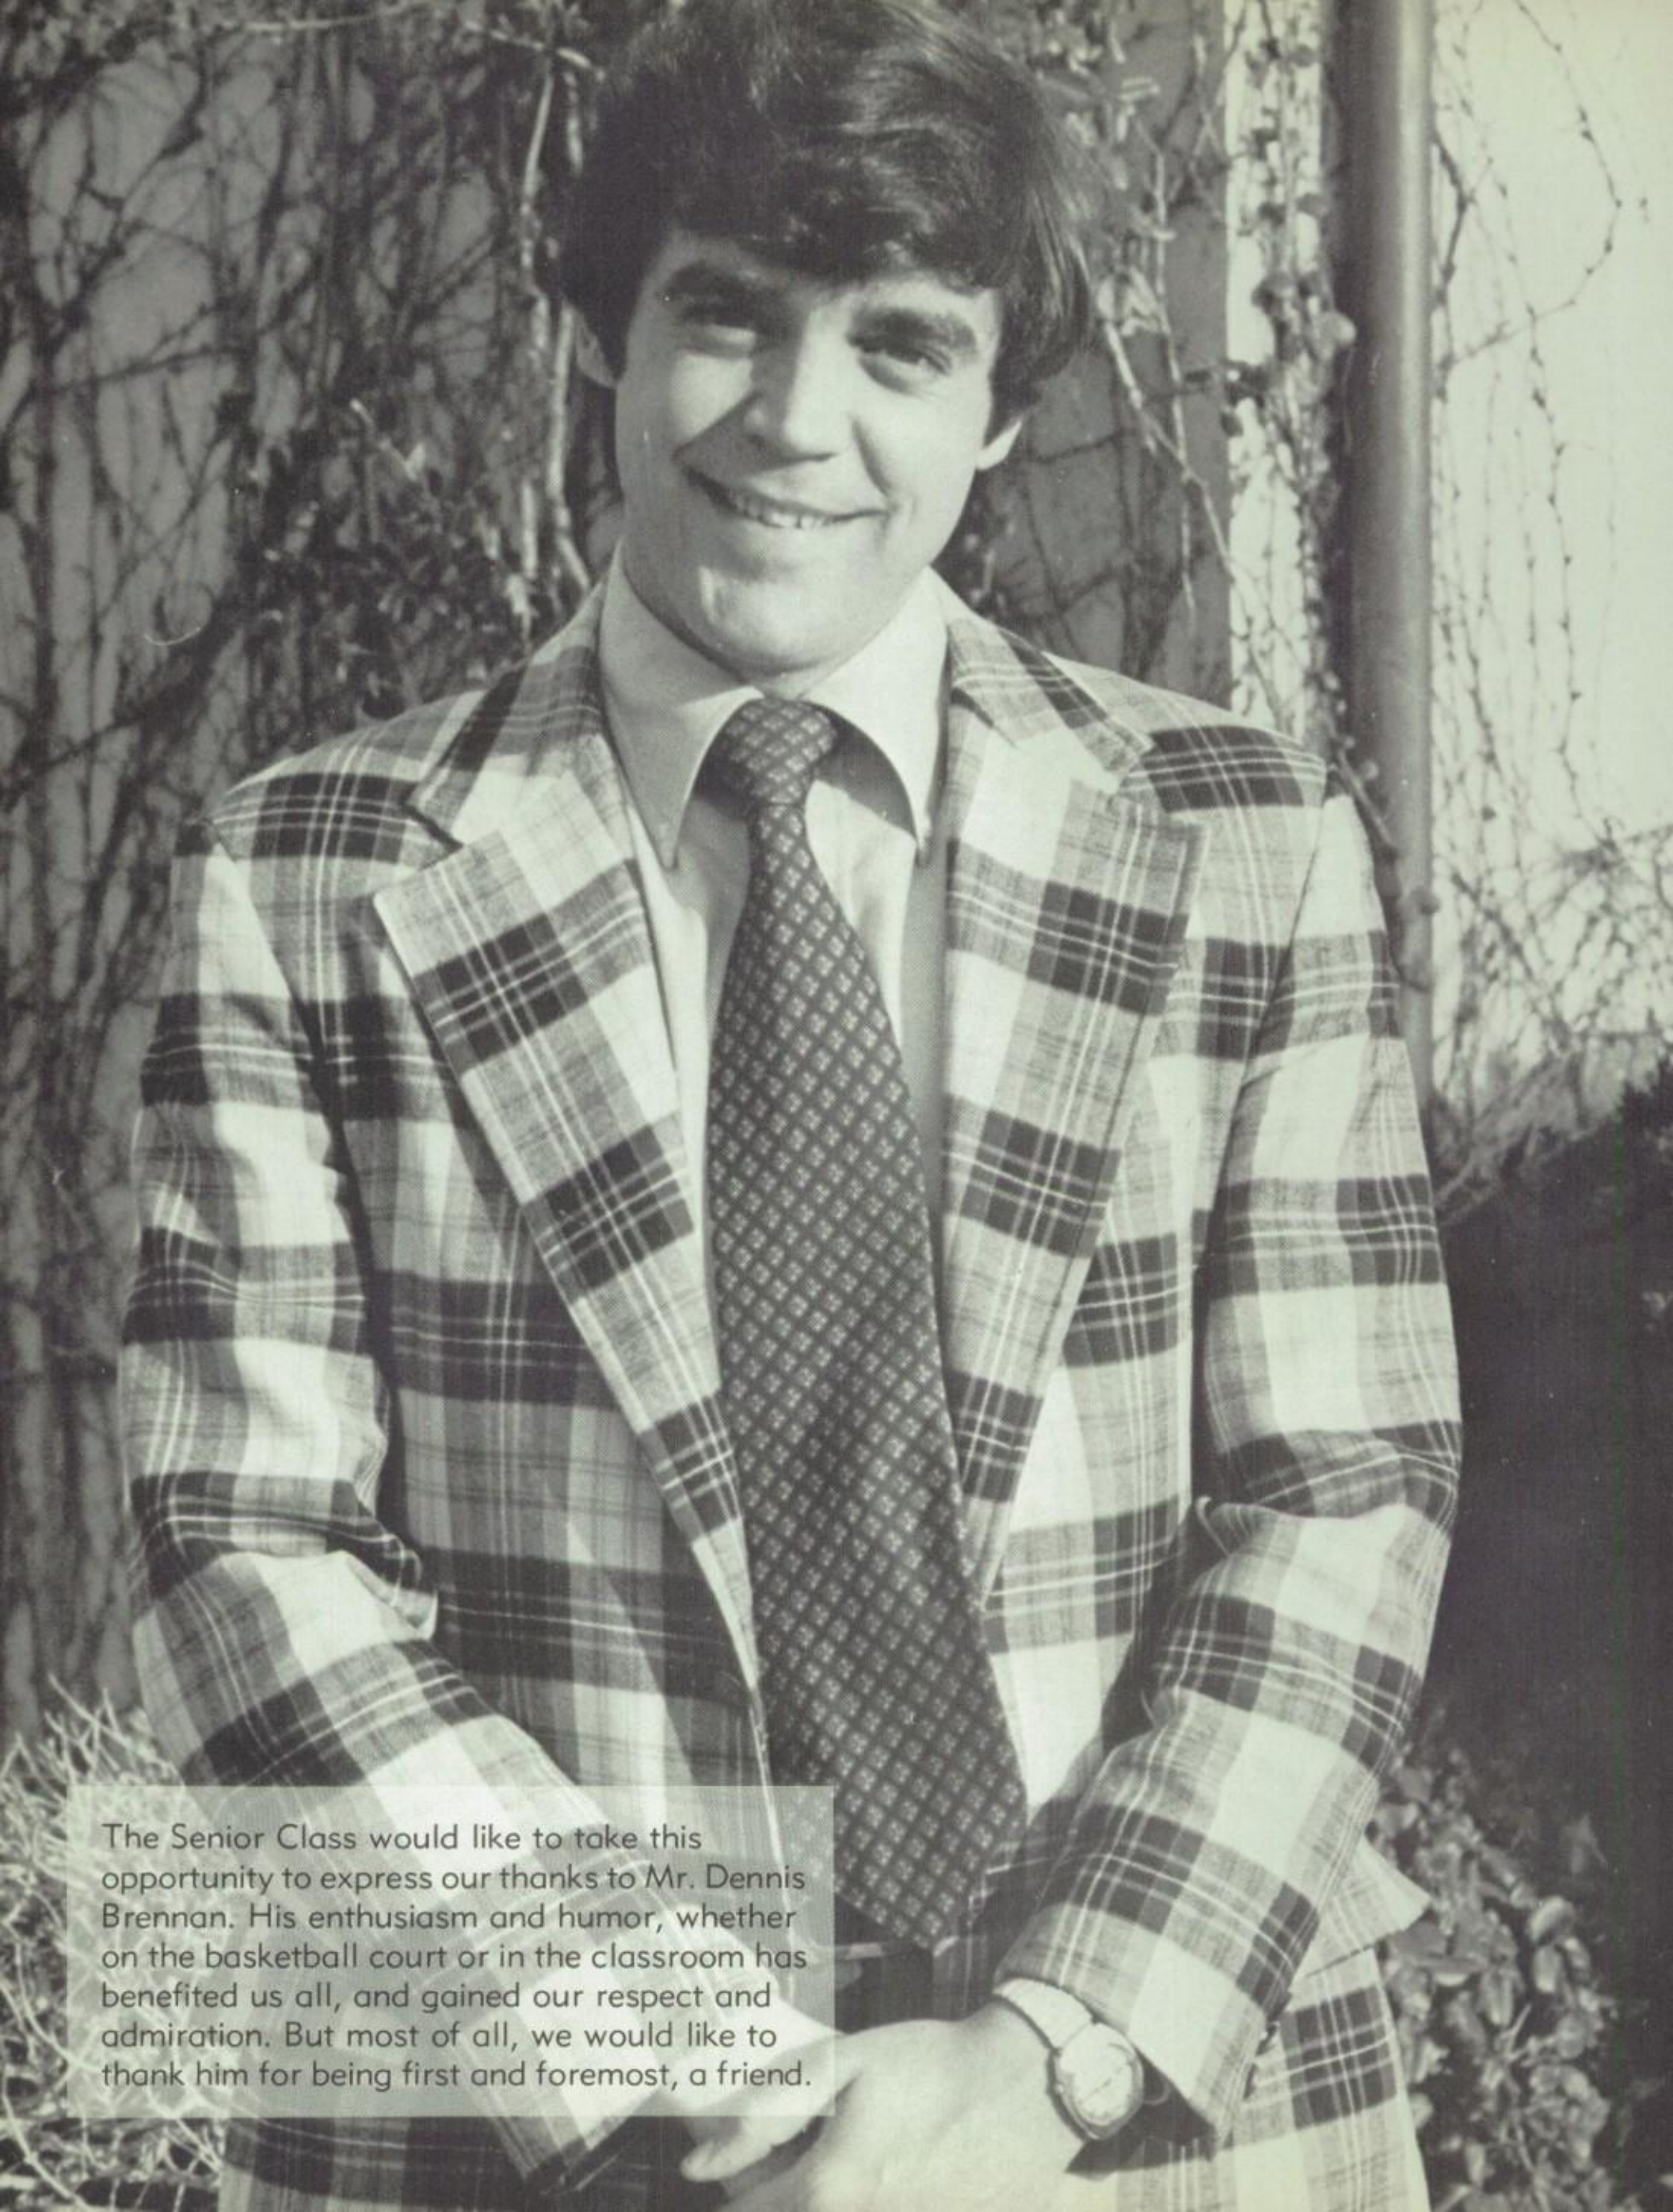
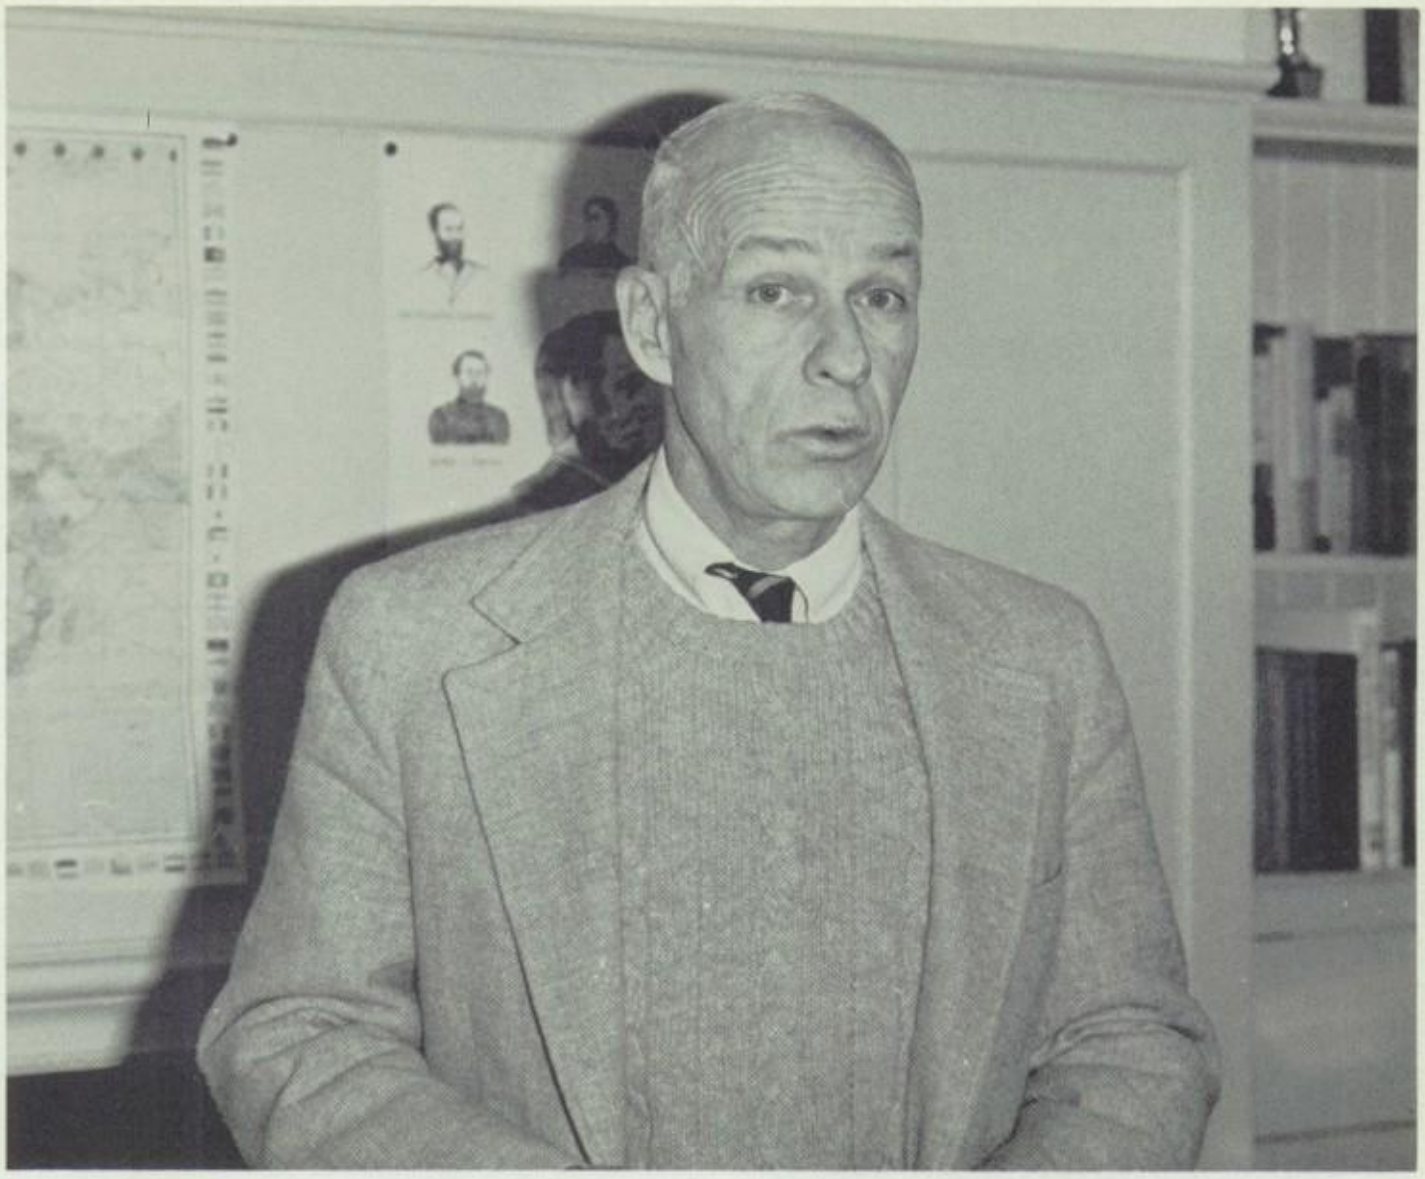
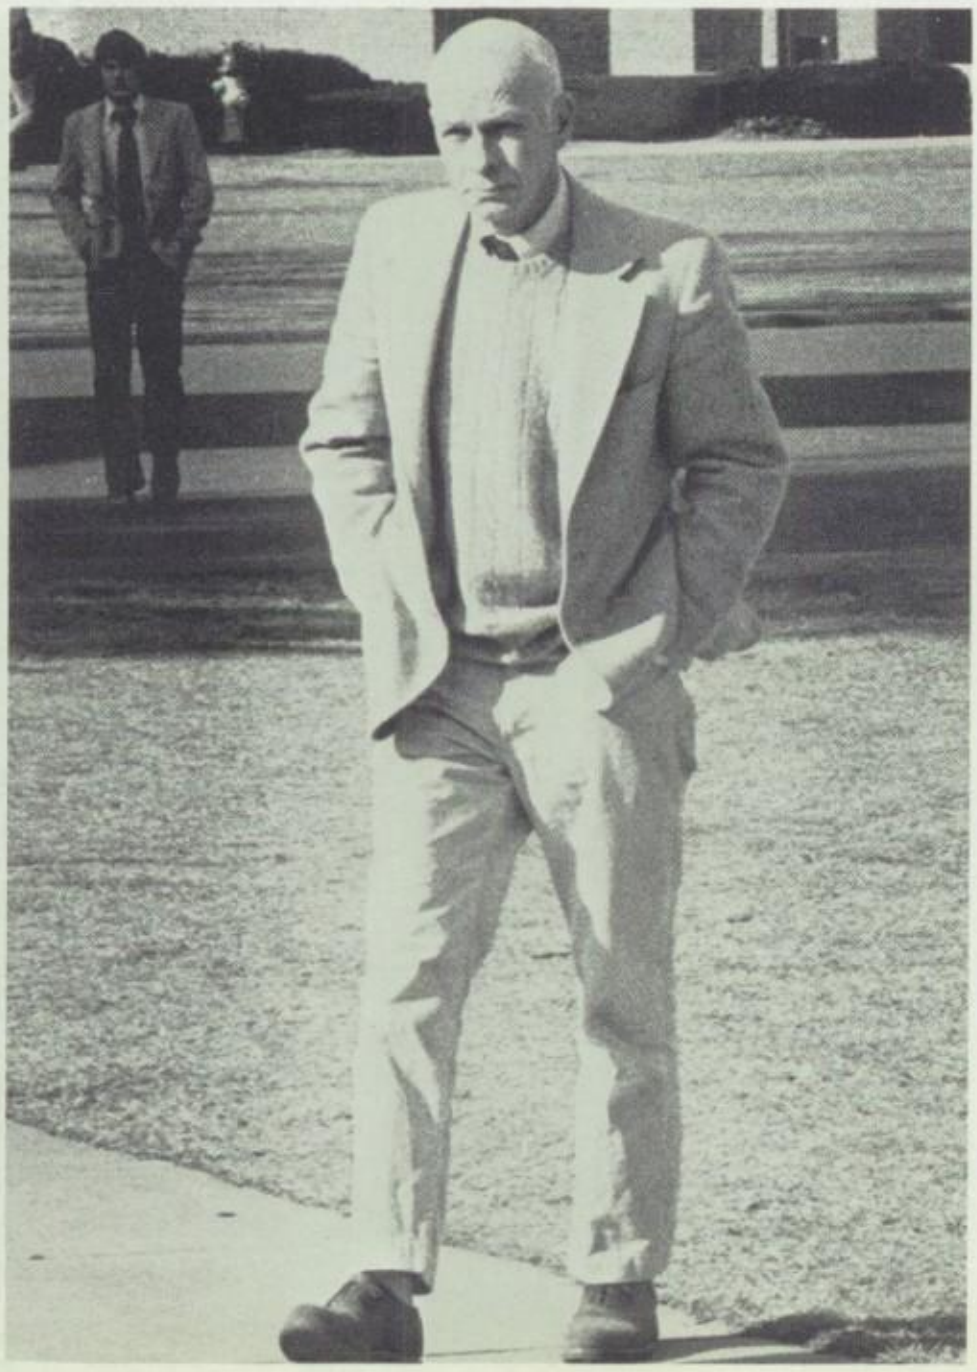
How long it's been since yesterday, what about tomorrow:
What about our dream — long memories we shared?

Walter B. Harriman



The Senior Class would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to Mr. Dennis Brennan. His enthusiasm and humor, whether on the basketball court or in the classroom has benefited us all, and gained our respect and admiration. But most of all, we would like to thank him for being first and foremost, a friend.





We the Class of 1980 would like to extend gratitude to Mr. Drew Langhauser. He is one teacher that shall long be remembered by all of us for his commitment and concern for every student. Be it in a history class or a college counseling session, he has shown the class of '80 that he truly cares, by expecting individual optimum performance at all times. Although we have often trembled under his strict hand, we have learned to expect the very best from ourselves, so that we may call him not only a teacher of History but a pedagogue of men.

THE CLASS OF 1980

To laugh often and love much;
to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affections of children;
to earn the approbation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others;
to give one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition;
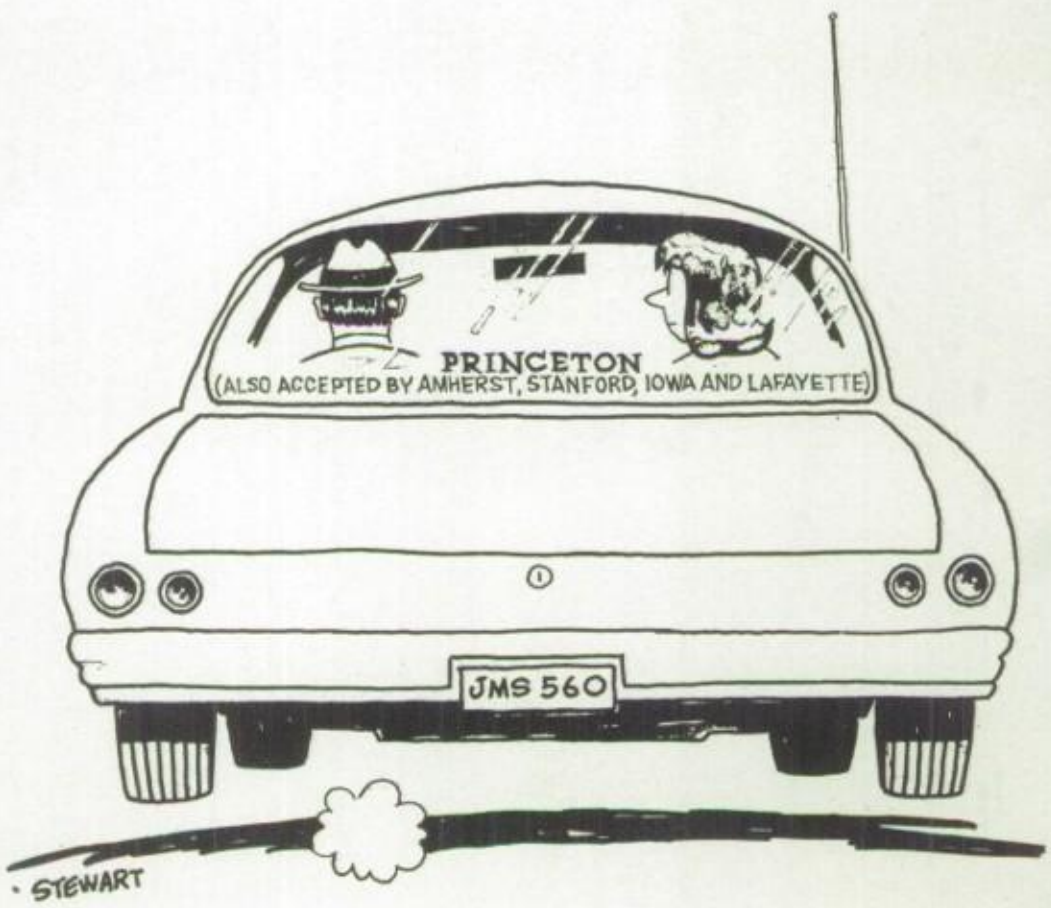
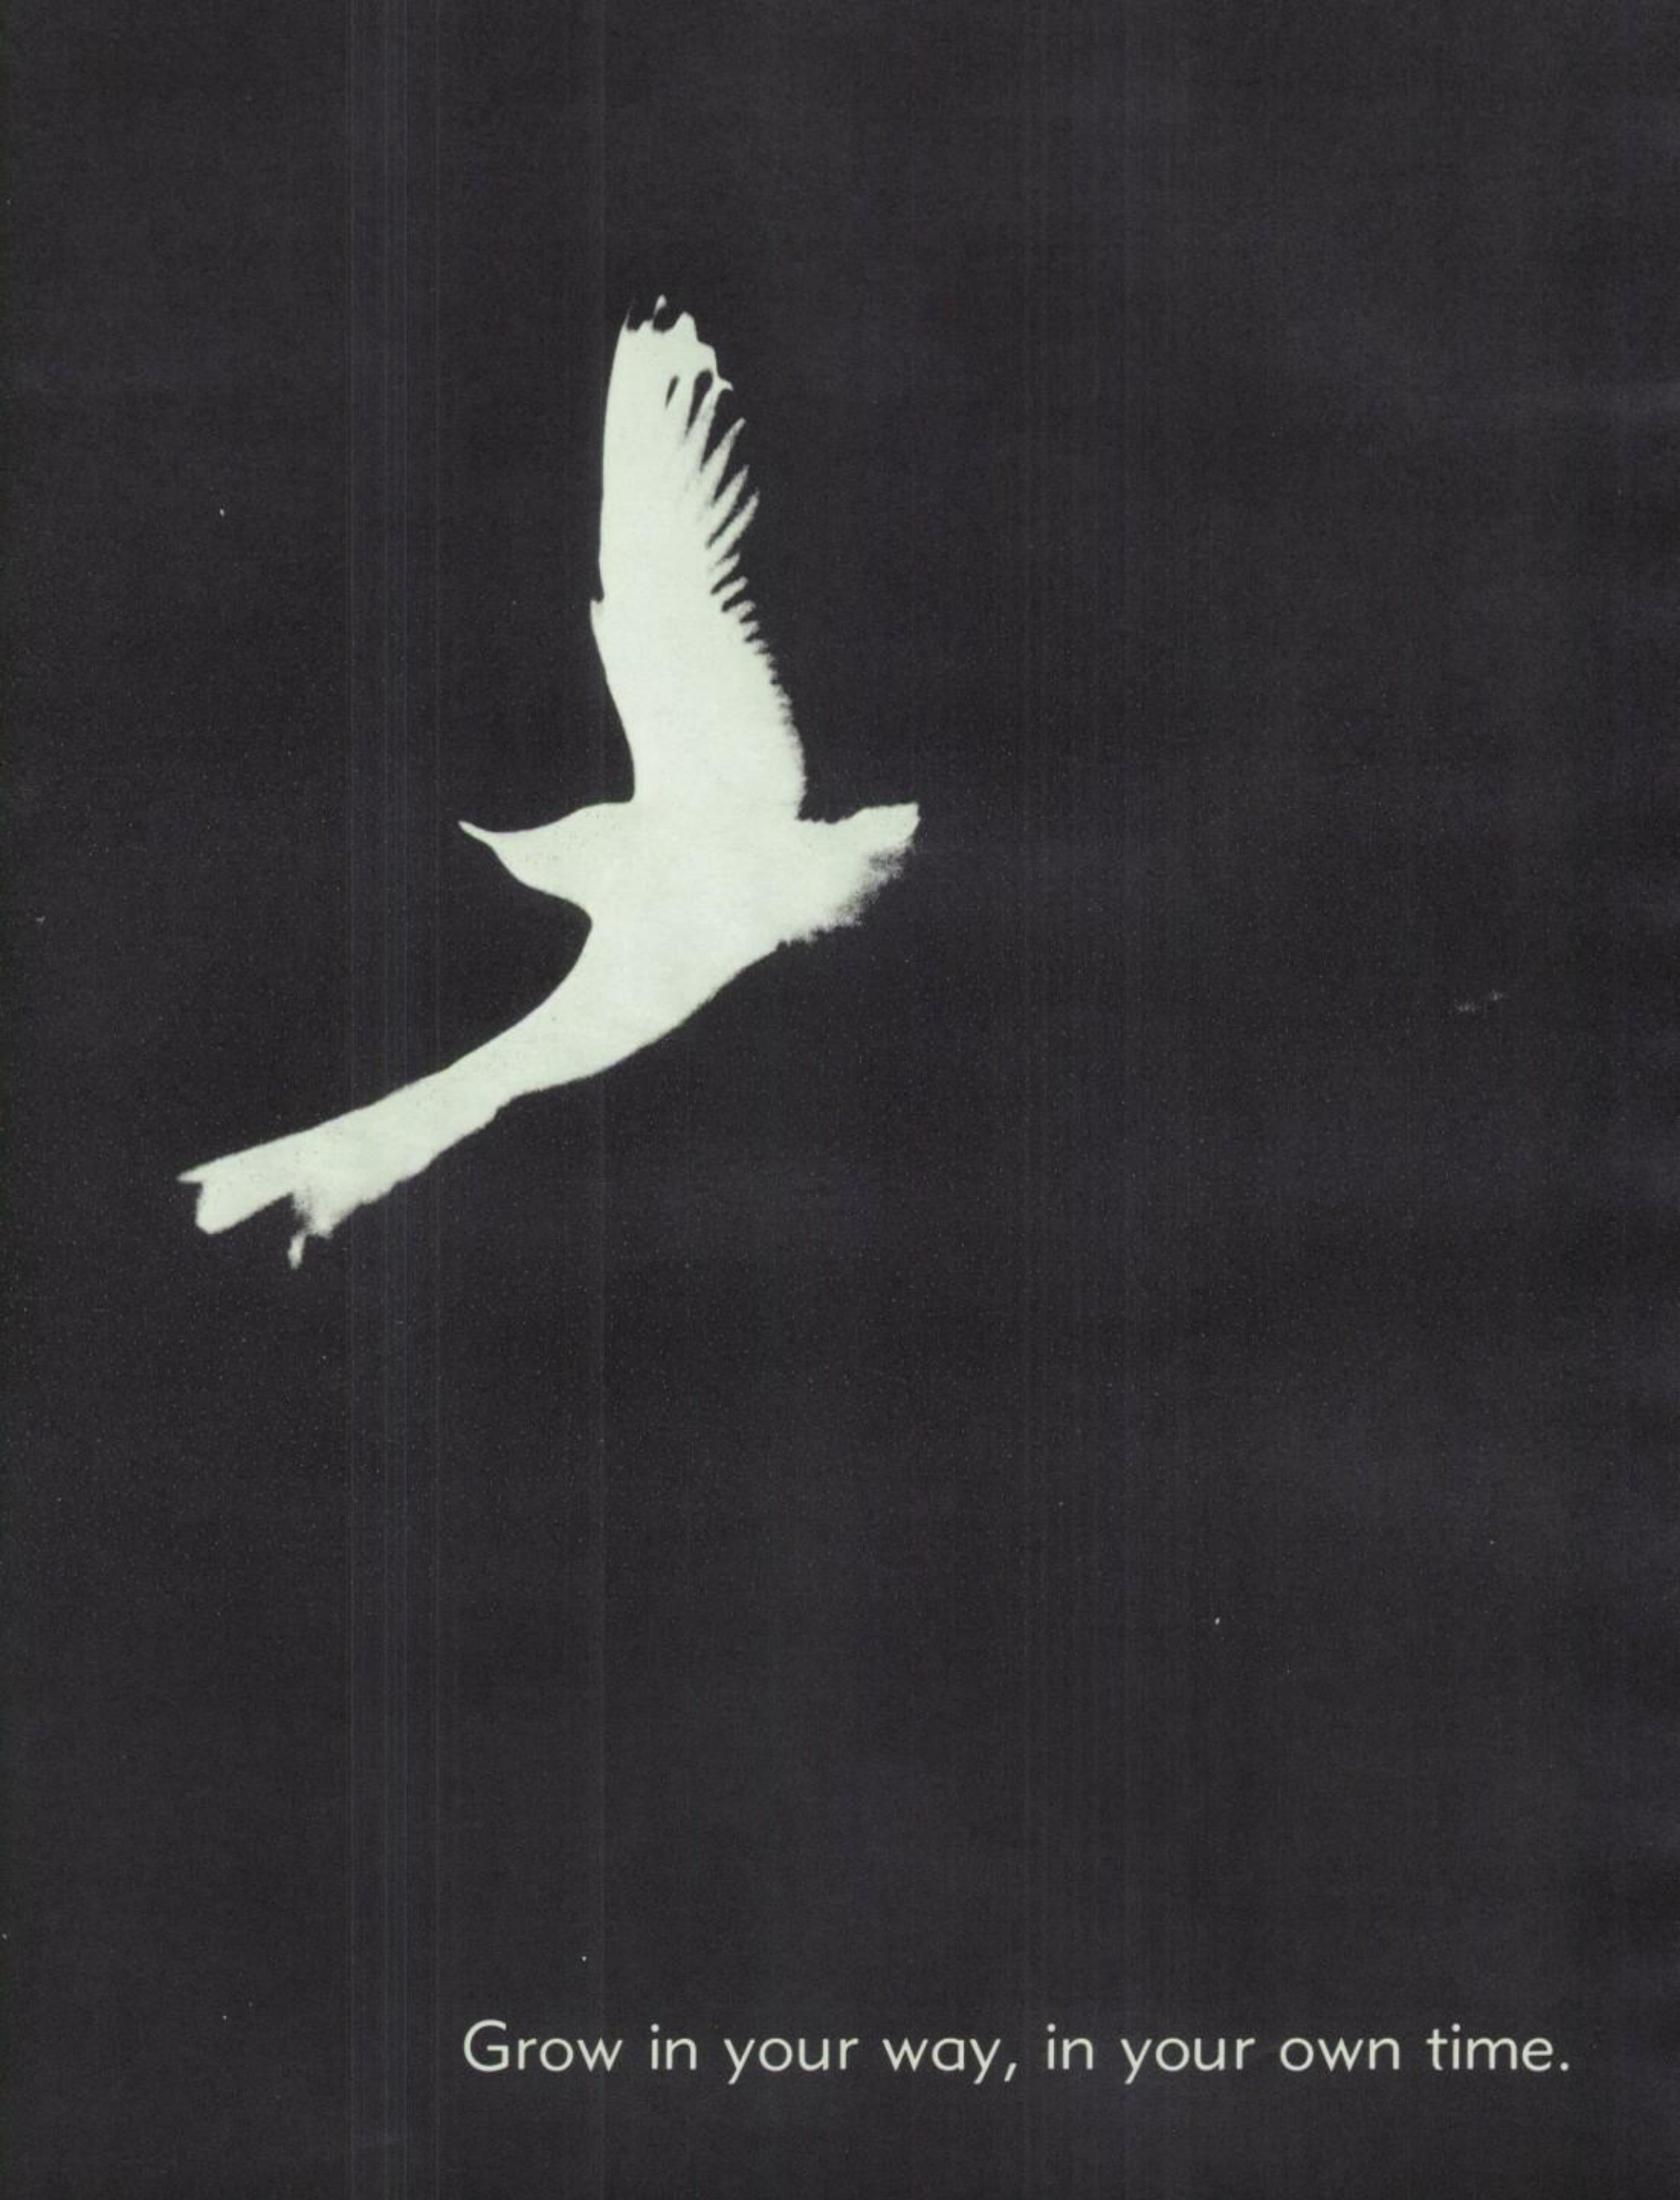
to have played and laughed with enthusiasm,
and sung with exulation;
to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived —

This is to Have Succeeded.





Grow in your way, in your own time.

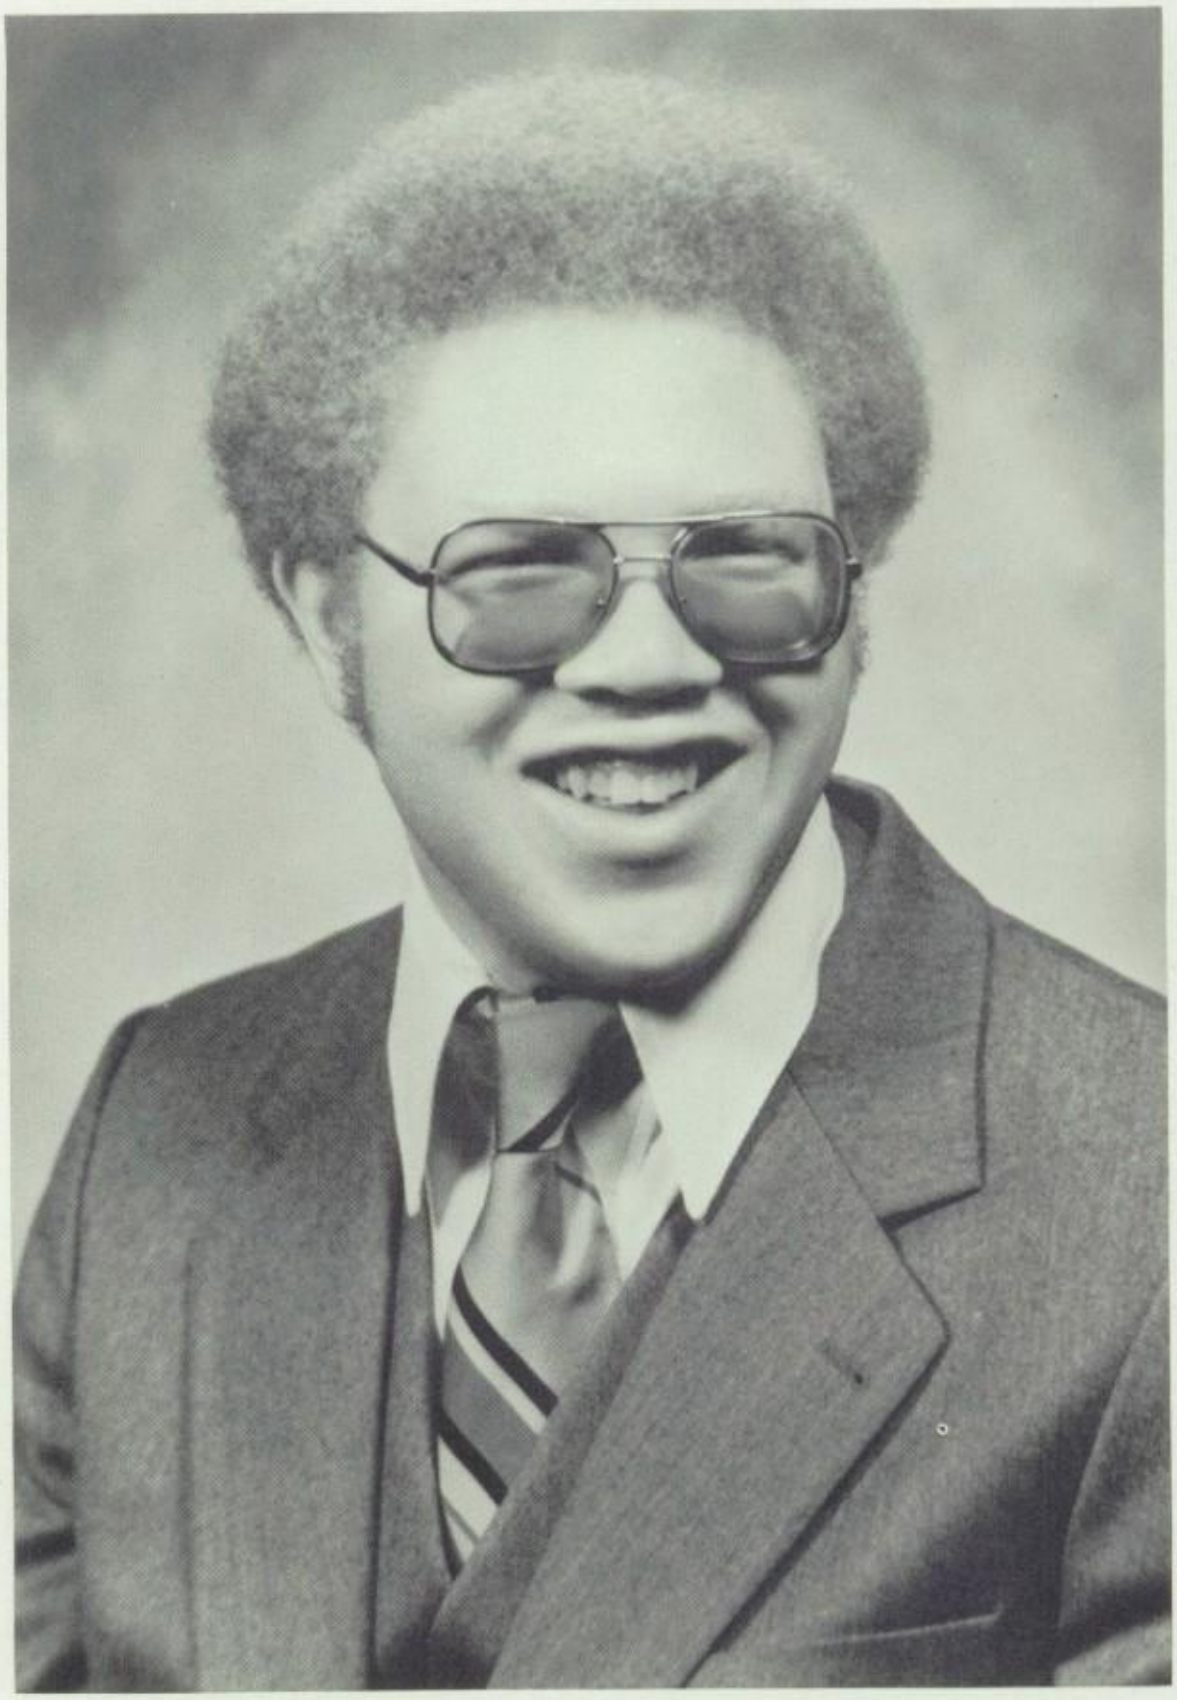
That's incredible!



I still hang around
Neither lost or found
Hear the lonely sound
Music in the night
Nights are always bright
That's all that's left for me

I play the street life
Because there's no place I can go
Street Life
And it's the only life I know
Street life
And there's a thousand parts to play
Street life
Until you play your life away

You let the people see
Just who you want to be
And every night you shine
Just like a super star
That's how the life is played
A ten-cent Masquerade
You dress, and walk, and talk —
You're who you think you are

Street life
You can run away from time
Street life
For a nickle and a dime
Street life
But you better not get old
Street life
Or you're gonna feel the cold

Come to see, victory in a land called fantasy, loving life, for you and me, to behold, to your soul is ectasy
You will find, other kind, that has been in search of you, many lives has brought you to recognize it's your life, now in

As you glide, in your stride with the wind, as you fly away give a smile, from your lips, and say
I am free, yes I'm free, now I'm

The real measure of a man's wealth is what he has invested for eternity

These, then, are the two points I want to make. First that human beings all over the world, have this curious idea that they ought to behave in a certain way, and cannot really get rid of it.

Secondly, that they do not in fact behave that way. They know the Law of Nature: they break it. These two facts are the foundation of all clear thinking about ourselves and the universe we live in.

C.S. Lewis

He spoke of a very simple thing — that it is right for a gull to fly, that freedom is the very nature of this being, that whatever stands against that freedom must be set aside, be it ritual or superstition or limitation in any form.

Jonathan Livingston Seagull

The future in modern society depends much more on the quiet heroism of the very few who are inspired by God.

Old Woody's firm and strong voice spoke to his God, to Anna, and to all mankind:

"In faith, I do not love thee with mine eyes
For they in thee a thousand errors note;
But 'tis my heart that loves what they despise."

His nut-brown chuckle broke the spell. "Do you know that one? 19's one of Shakespeare's sonnets. They," he said, and his arms swept out to embrace the world, "will tell you to develop your brain and your five senses. But that's only the half of it, that's only half a human. The other half is to develop the heart and the wits."

Those who are too comfortable and lazy to think for themselves and be their own judges obey the laws. Others sense their own laws within them; things are forbidden to them that every honorable man will do any day in the year and other things are allowed to them that are generally despised. Each person must stand on his own feet.

Ticking away the moments that make up a dull day
You fritter and waste the hours in an offhand way
Kicking around on a piece of ground in your home town

Waiting for someone or something to show you the way
Tired of lying in the sunshine staying home to watch the rain
You are young and life is long and there is time to kill today
And then one day you find ten years have got behind you
No one told you where to run, you missed the starting gun.

And you run and you run to catch up with the sun, but it's sinking and racing around to come up behind you again
The sun is the same in the relative way, but you're older
And shorter of breath and one day closer to death.

Every year is getting shorter, never seem to find the time
Plans that either come to naught or half a page of scribbled lines
Hanging on in quiet desperation is the English Way
The time is gone the song is over though I'd something more to say.

If you didn't care what happened to me,
And I didn't care for you,
We would zig zag our way through the boredom and pain,
Occasionally glancing up through the rain,
Wondering which of the buggers to blame,
And watching for pigs on the wing.

silence

i wish i could tell you just how it is with me. would i dare quote poems of love? would i dare be honest and tell you? i did that once, it got me a summer of raindrops and tear drops for my honesty, so perhaps all you'll ever hear from me is silence. yet, i suppose that if you can not understand my silence, you would never understand my words.

Touch Me In Silence

Touch me softly;
Stay with me silently
I need someone
To need me.
Please don't want me to speak
Because I can't explain my feelings.
I hope you'll understand
I only want to be with you,
And when you need
Someone to need you
I'll touch you softly; and
Stay with you silently

Now is the hour when my way to Camelot is here, there and everywhere. There's a kind of a hush. Must climb every mountain, follow the yellow bird and bridge every troubled water.

WE'RE OUT OF HERE!!!
CLASS OF 1980

I wanna laugh while the laughin' is easy
I wanna cry if it makes it worthwhile
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you
'Cause you make me feel like I'm more than a friend
Like I'm the journey and you're the journey's end
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you

People so seldom say I love you then its either too late or loves goes.

So when I tell you that I love you

I doesn't mean that I know you'll never go only that I wish you didn't have to.

Forever,

a friend
